SDG 1 – No Poverty Report

Overview

SDG 1 aims to end poverty in all its forms everywhere. Poverty affects individuals and families by limiting their access to basic needs, education, healthcare, employment opportunities, and other essential services. Addressing poverty requires financial assistance, livelihood opportunities, social protection, and community-based programs that help disadvantaged and low-income families improve their quality of life.

Community Situation

The community continues to face challenges related to low income, unemployment, economic hardship, and limited livelihood opportunities. Some families may depend on social assistance and financial aid programs to meet their basic needs. Vulnerable groups, including indigent and low-income families, may require additional support through government and community programs.

Programs such as the Pantawid Pamilyang Pilipino Program (4Ps), cash assistance, livelihood programs, and other social protection initiatives can help provide temporary or long-term support to families experiencing poverty.

Key Areas of Concern

- Low household income
- Unemployment and limited livelihood opportunities
- Financial difficulties among low-income families
- Dependence on social assistance
- Limited access to economic opportunities
- Vulnerability to unexpected financial emergencies
- Need for sustainable livelihood and income-support programs

Community Programs and Initiatives

To address these concerns, the community can support and promote programs focused on:

1. Livelihood Development – Providing skills training, entrepreneurship programs, and employment opportunities to help residents generate sustainable income.
2. Financial Assistance – Connecting qualified individuals and families with available financial aid, cash assistance, and social assistance programs.
3. Social Protection – Supporting vulnerable households through programs such as 4Ps and other government or community-based welfare initiatives.
4. Employment Support – Creating opportunities for job placement, skills development, and local employment.
5. Community Assistance – Encouraging organizations and community groups to provide assistance to families experiencing economic hardship.

SDG Contribution

These initiatives contribute to SDG 1 by reducing poverty, improving household income, strengthening social protection, and increasing access to economic opportunities. Sustainable livelihood programs are particularly important because they can help families become less dependent on temporary financial assistance.

Recommended Indicators

The SDG Smart Hub can monitor the following indicators:

Indicator	Description
Number of low-income families assisted	Families receiving financial or social assistance
Number of livelihood beneficiaries	Residents participating in livelihood programs

Number of employment beneficiaries	Residents who gained employment through programs
Financial assistance provided	Total assistance distributed to qualified beneficiaries
4Ps beneficiaries	Number of households receiving 4Ps support
Livelihood programs conducted	Number of livelihood activities implemented
Families receiving social protection	Households covered by social protection programs

Conclusion

Addressing poverty requires more than providing short-term financial assistance. Communities should combine social protection with sustainable livelihood, employment, education, and skills-development opportunities. By monitoring poverty-related programs and their beneficiaries through the SDG Smart Hub, community leaders can better understand local needs, improve resource allocation, and support initiatives that contribute to SDG 1 – No Poverty.
